

We are looking into different options to find the right balance between cost (it is expensive to travel to the mountains or to a unique natural scenery: flights + accommodation for us and the crew). And it needs to be safe from weather situations.

We are looking at mountains indeed but also a desert. Yes we amazing dunes could be within reach of a production hub, with crew and equipment. And it has sun, steep slopes and it is so cosmetic.

